From the focus group results, one key insight is the overall experience within International Cheese Shop and how customers value atmosphere and knowledgeable staff.

Another insight is the diversity and quality of cheese selection within the cheese shop and how this leads to meeting customer expectations when visiting.

From the survey results, one insight is how the selection of cheeses plays a factor in International Cheese Shop's target market, such as age and gender.

Another insight is how the overall satisfaction of services, such as location and friendly staff, play a key factor when customers visit International Cheese Shop.

Recommendations given to International Cheese Shop would be to increase their selection of cheeses and change prices of some of the cheeses they offer.

The findings from this research study are important as it will determine what factors International Cheese Shop should focus on to stay competitive in the industry, regardless of any new competition that enters the market.

International Cheese Shop has been a local San Francisco purveyor of specialty cheeses. Once the owners heard about two new cheese shops that were opening in the area, they wanted to know if their store would remain competitive in the new market.

Their problems that they identified were to evaluate the overall customer satisfaction with the shop. The owners also wanted to know if there were areas that needed improvements such as upgrading service performance and/or offering additional services to customers.

We can recruit respondents using the list of 414 subscribers to Cheese Gourmet magazine that are also living in the San Francisco area.

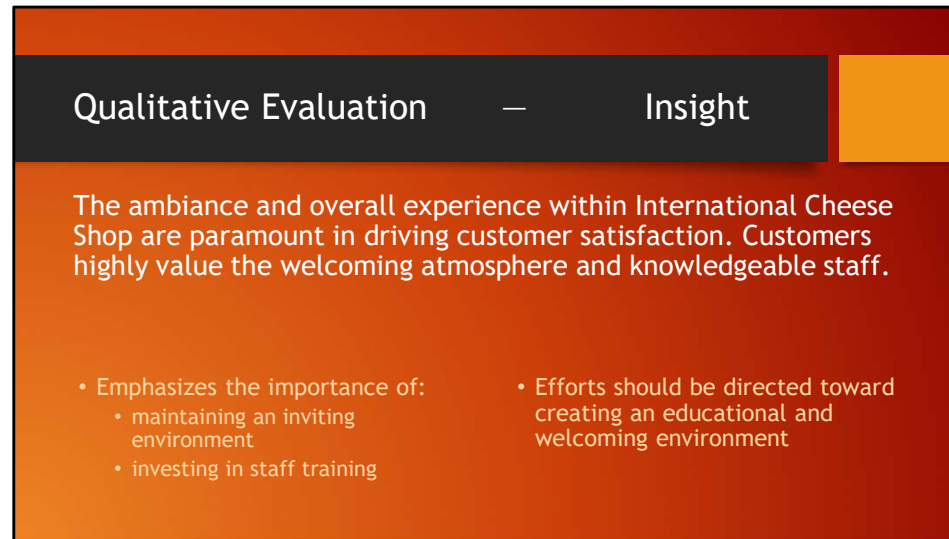

For this study, the target population size is estimated to be 414. At the 95% confidence level, this study will have a margin of error of +/- 5%. A sample size needed is 200.

After reviewing the survey results, 256 respondents of 414 subscribers participated in the survey, resulting in a response rate of 62%.

The ideal response rate range for a customer satisfaction survey is 15-30%. This response rate is higher than the ideal., which works for us. The higher the percentage, the better.

We can assume that since the methodology attempted to reach consumers of the cheese industry by targeting subscribers to a gourmet cheese magazine, this led to a higher response rate since respondents might have had a higher interest in the survey topic.

After reviewing the focus group results, a key insight is the ambiance and overall experience within International Cheese Shop are paramount in driving customer satisfaction. Customers highly value the welcoming atmosphere and knowledgeable staff.

This insight emphasizes the importance of maintaining an inviting environment and investing in staff training.

The insight emphasizes the importance of continuously expanding and curating cheese offerings, which caters to diverse tastes and preferences.

It also highlights the importance of cheese selection as a key factor, which suggests that International Cheese Shop should prioritize product diversity and quality.

After analyzing the survey results, the first insight is the wide selection of cheeses, specifically gourmet and imported, drive customer satisfaction when respondents are visiting their favorite cheese shop.

From the survey results, the availability of imported and gourmet cheeses were the most important services from respondents. Selection of cheeses was the third most response.

A variety of factors played also key roles in this insight. The first is age, as most responses came from the ages 31-40yrs age group. All ages saw the selection of cheeses also as important. The second factor is gender, as females cared more about selection of cheeses, with imported cheeses being of utmost importance. Males came in second with gourmet cheeses being their first important response. The third factor was their living situation, renters being the highest number of respondents, and they also had high selection of cheeses and their types being the most important part of services offered at their cheese shop.

This graph details the results of question one from the survey.

61 total respondents listed gourmet cheeses as the most important part of the service received from their favorite cheese shop. 59 listed the availability of imported cheeses, and 40 respondents listed the large selection of cheeses.

This implies that the overall selection of cheeses is an important factor when visiting a cheese shop.

The second insight is that the overall satisfaction of services, such as friendly staff, location, and cleanliness at International Cheese Shop, plays a key factor when customers visit.

After analyzing the survey results from the second question, three services had the highest rating of an average of 4.5: good location, cleanliness of facility, and friendliness of staff.

Nonbinary were the second highest overall satisfaction. Age also played a key factor in this insight as ages 31-40yrs had the highest average satisfaction, with 20-30yrs old being the second highest age group.

A recommendation to give International Cheese Shop would be to increase their selection of cheeses. From the survey and focus group results, most respondents are not satisfied with the selection of cheeses. Most would like to see an increased variety of cheeses, specifically imported and gourmet cheeses. This along with training their staff to be knowledgeable on the type of cheeses they offer can lead to an increase in overall customer satisfaction.
